

HELLO

from this side of the screen.

Bledning of concepts and passion of writing is what I love playing with.

With almost half a decade of experience in creation. My dedication to this aptitude has always been a constant. Content Creation is my passion and I happily spend hours getting lost in every content I create.

When I am not on the content or trek you can find me watching senpai or perfecting my yoga postures. Whatever else I find myself doing in the flaky word of innovation.

My Canvas

I believe that every damn thing has a story and I've made it my mission to give that stories more shine with content.

I was that geeky explorer chick who spent her college breaks on the open beaches or offbeat places with a good book in hand.

My Passion

A few glimpses of some of my work for different types of clients. I've grasped the skill of communication in a variety of ways and I aspire to learn and experience a lot more of the world.

With article writing and copywriting for social media platforms being my areas of interest. I have tried to cover little from every industry I have worked for.

I find great joy in managing the client's social media accounts on sites like Instagram, Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, Google Business, and YouTube.

Sample Works

Social Media

Not all social media managers have the same objectives, and not all operations related to social media are created equal.

---

Web Content

---

A leading export and import company having ample of experience with the intent of providing quality product in Australia.

Business Material

---

Subsector of accounting that deals with the preparations of tax returns, business returns, GST and bookkeeping in Australia.

Travel writing is essentially storytelling from the POV of the traveller.

You may see me putting a lot content about travelling and discovering new locations, cultures, and people. (Also trying new vegetarianism cuisines). I have been to and experienced five states and two UTs, tried various adventure sports, went hiking, and the list goes on.

Well, to say this is my achievement would be totally untrue. At best, this was my dream. There are people in this world, some of them so wonderful, that made this dream become, a reality & a product on Amazon. That you're seeing and I'm holding in my hand. I would like to thank all of you and in particular.

A brother, a friend, a mentor, who was once a tv remote fighter to me. And was and is the first reader of my article. Apart from being annoyed by some of my wrong decisions, he killed his calm, as he had to rule the tough job of improving my skills, and my achievements and not upsetting his sister.

My mom and dad, two people with an unwavering, unbreakable belief in me that bordered on craziness at times. My relationship with them goes beyond the words can describe in this caption.

Thank you especially to @kushagra and @unvoiced for this gig with the intent of showcasing the unpainted words.

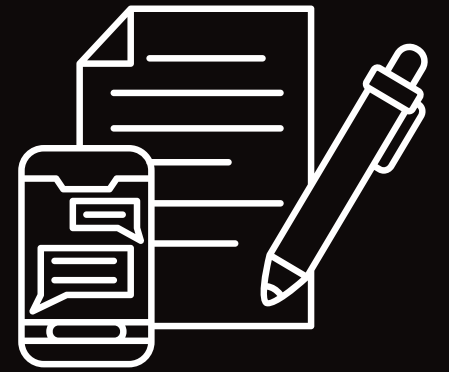

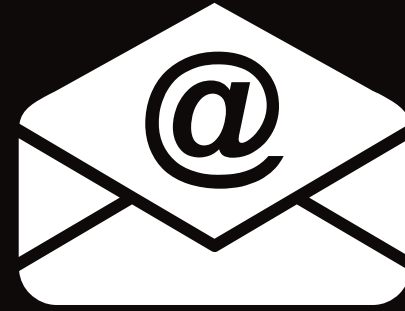

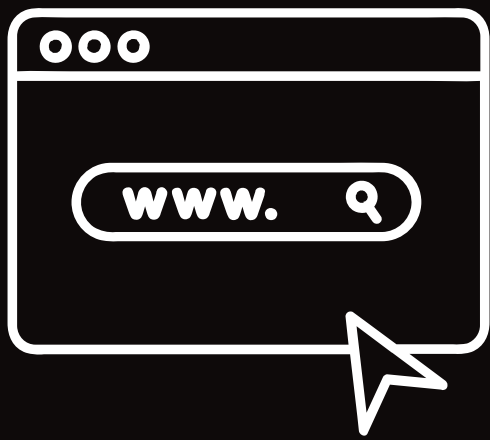

Let me help you with your documents so you can get back to running your business.

Just some, of it all....
Basic proofread: Spelling and major grammar points, punctuation, and capitalization.

Copy edit: Detailed grammar check (verb tenses, parallel structure, run-on sentences, repeated words), formatting (font, spacing, indents), internal consistency.

Detailed line edit: Rearrange and rewrite sentences/paragraphs to be natural and engaging. Polish pacing and delivery.

Experienced in a range of other documents from articles, Blogs, Resumes, Manuals, Corporate E-mails and more.

As my portfolio demonstrates. Exposure of my work is in website content, guest posting on various subjects including social media, and corporate emails and created blog content which has been read by hundreds of readers. This link from my recent blogging can go right in it. I'd love to discuss how I could help with some tailored content.
